Before I entered the ring I was certain I would be the victor. I never changed my mind at any time.

Jeffries's blows had no steam behind them, so how could he hope to defeat me?
With the exception of a slight cut on my lip, which was really caused by an old wound being struck. I am unmarked. I heard people at the ringside remark about a body blow inflicted upon me. I do not recall a single punch in the body that caused me any discomfort. I am in shape to battle again komorrow if it were necessary.

I believe we both fought fairly. There was nothing said between us which was rough. He joked me and I joked him. I told him I knew he was a bear, but I was a gorilla and would defeat him.

For the next few weeks I shall play vaudevile. Then I shall go to my home in Chicago to rest. I do not think I shall fight for several months, because I do not know a man now who could give me a good battle. No attention will be paid to Sam Langford's challenge by me. I don't consider he would give me a fight that would draw.

JACK JOHNSON AND HIS WHITE WIFE.

HARNESS RACES MOVES SUDDENLY.

At the resort where the new champlon prepared for his great fight there was little to indicate that he had ever been there. When suddenly he withdrew to his private car list night, sparing no effort to get started toward the applause that awaits him in the east, his marking was done in great speed. Not a vestage of his camp equipment remained today only the bare boards of his boxing platform and the trampled ground where hundreds gathered to watch him dawde through the boxing bouts that only hinted at the wonderful speed and eleverness he was to display in the real fight. News of the champion's departure was spread during the day and there were no visitors at the resort last night. The days of its greatness have vanished and it has fallen back to the sleepy quiet that it knew before the fighters came.

Johnson's depature from here was delayed until almost 2 o'clock this morning by a tie-up in the railroad trains. His train was due to leave over the Southern Pacific at 9:45. Johnson, his wife and several friends sait in the observation coach until the train left. Then he retired to his private coach. The party is due to rrive in Chicago Thursday afternoon.

BUT LITTLE CHEERING.
Only a few people were present when the champion left. There was a little cheering and the negro came out on the rear platform of the train and bowed to the crowd.

The banquet that James J. Jeffice's friends had planned to give their idd tonight at a local cafe will never be held. When Jeffries returned to his training camp after the fight he requested Berger to telephone to the care and say that he would not be present at the dinner. A few of the friends, moved by hunger alone, sat at the table and consumed the meal that had been prepared. There was no wine and little conversation. MOVES SUDDENLY.

Lomond Wips Independence Stake From Chester Krum, the Heavily Played Favorite.

Lomond, the second choice at 5 to 2, won (By James J. Jeffries).

Reno, Nev., July 4.—I lost my fight this afternoon because I did not have the snap of youth I used to have. I believe in my own heart that all the old-time dash was there, but when I started to execute, the speed and the youthful steam were lacking. The things I used to do vere impossible. For instance, I used to do vere impossible. For instance, I used to shoot in a right-hand body punch, a sort of a short range blow, that never used to fail me. When I tried it today the snap was not there and it was only a love tap.

I suppose most of my trainers and helpers will say that I did not box enough. It would not have made any difference if I had sparred a dozen times more than I did. I simply was not there, and that's all there is to it.

I guess it's all my own fault. I was getting along nicely and living peacefully on my alfaffa form, but when they started calling for me and mentioning me as the "white man's hope," I guess my pride got the better of my good judgment. At that, I worked long and hard to condition myself and I was fit, as far as strength goes, but the old necessary snap and dash, the willingness to tear in and crush, were not with me. Six years ago the result might have been different.

But now—well, I guess the public will let me alone after this. the Independence stake at Burna Vista Monday afternoon before the largest crowd that has attended the race meet this season.
